

'Audrey' becomes one of top OU student shows -

Co-authors, actors combine to present 'professional' job

By June Williams

Music of professional calibre, talent that sparkles and a well-written plot have been put together this year to make "Audrey" one of the best student productions to ever hit Omaha U. Those who have not yet seen the Tom Tom Revue have a top-notch surprise in store for them.

Co-directors Berk Forsythe and Rolly Klopfeisch have outdone themselves in writing 16 terrific songs. Outstanding among them are "Highways," sung by Jim DuBois as Lonnie, "You're Here With Me," and "Ain't It Funny?" by a terrific comedy team: Lee Marx (Miss Sampson) and Charlie Simpson (Smith).

Although the music made the show, a well-written plot was carried effectively. Leads Jackie Zerbe as Audrey and Don Saroion as Parky proved themselves able to handle a vocal with style as well as lead the cast through a successful three-act comedy.

Jean Madden as Kate turned in a polished performance along with Jim McPherson, Suzi Thompson and Phil Abramson. Bonnie Burgess handled her part expertly, while Dick Smith proved to be a convincing gambler. Choreography and self performances by Helen Burhorn deserve special credit.

Both singing and dancing choruses and the 16-piece orchestra showed results of talent and practice combined. Off-stage artists win acclaim for terrific props and lighting effects which gave the production polish. Undisputed awards go to Dr. Edwin Clark and Dr. Robert Feister. Dr. Clark, said one director, did a "really tremendous job of coordinating and polishing the show."

Forsythe

Cloak of mystery surrounds Feathers' pep rally Monday

Mystery shrouds the pep rally scheduled for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium. Reason for all the mystery is that Nancy Will and Jane Hoff are keeping mum about most of the details.

Under pressure however, they admitted that (1) classes will run on the usual shortened schedule, (2) the auditorium will be a trial theatre for testing a new type of applause meter, (3) there definitely will be a master of ceremonies, (4) a huge supporting cast plus the pep band will be on hand.

Of their own accord they said the rally will spark enthusiasm for the game Monday night at 8 p.m. between Peru State Teachers and the Indians in the Fieldhouse.

Earlier this week, the Indians trounced Peru on the Bobcat boards, 71-65.

The Feathers co-chairmen added that those attending the pep rally will see some "OU beauties." They gave no further information on the subject.

Prexy reveals senior sponsors, committees

Banquet Committee Chairman Don West has on his committee Mona Feinberg, Barbara Haugness, Jean Levenson, Lorraine Peters, Matsolonia Pruitt, Edith Sparks, Charlotte Weinberg and Bonnie Wilson.

Gift Committee chairman is Nancy Jones. Assisting her are Joan Bugbee, Pat Doyle, Marilyn Everett, Mary Gardner, Bob Hansen, Doris Hanson, Carol Miles, Nancy Will and June Williams. Chairman Rudy Vancura has on his Dance Committee Dick Beem, Charles Gruenig, Shirley Hawkins, Gloria Johnson and Marilyn Mellam.

Yearbook staff needs volunteers for typing

An urgent call for four typists has been issued by Don Badger, editor of The Tomahawk. Typists will be listed as minor staff members in the yearbook. Anyone interested in helping get The Tomahawk out is asked to see Don Badger in the publications office. These typing positions will also count for activity credit.

Badger reports that work on The Tomahawk is progressing steadily and the staff will have the book ready for distribution May 10.

'Sophisticate' relaxes; exam schedule holds no fears

On the surface, the student depicted below has a "let's face it" attitude. That can be attributed to the cartoonist who made him that way. At any rate, he is facing it—the exam schedule, that is.

Bother him? Note the jaunty angle of the hat, that devil may care slouch, the arm dangling at his side, the eyes that speak of "one too many" cuts, the pipe set squarely in his jaw and at a right angle to his nose or vice versa.

Gateway readers might shudder visibly when looking at the exam schedule and turn their attention elsewhere on the page.

But it doesn't bother him. He's been drafted.

Registration for second semester closes today

Fee to accompany late registration period; night school students may enroll Monday

Today is the last day for students to complete their registration for the second semester. By last Wednesday evening, supplies had been distributed to 1,100 students, according to Miss Alice Smith, registrar.

Late registration will begin Jan. 29 and will last until Feb. 11. A late registering fee of $3 will be charged for the first week, and an additional fee of $1 will be added for each week thereafter.

Deadline today

Students whose last names begin with A through L are asked to register in room 244, while those whose names begin with M through Z will sign up in room 248. Students in school now are urged to register by 5 p.m. today.

Counselors will see day school students today and entering students Jan. 28.

Night school

Night school students will begin their registration Monday. They have an opportunity to register until Jan. 29. New students in the School of Adult Education will sign up the evening of Jan. 29.

Students completing their registration today will avoid paying the late registering fee.

Enrollment for the second semester is expected to drop slightly due to the drafting of college-age men.

Induction law revises status

The following information has just been released by the National Headquarters Selective Service System in Washington, D. C.:

"Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

"Such arrangements are not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are henceforth to be deferred instead of having their induction postponed."

The release added that those graduating in June of this year should have "ample opportunity to enlist in the service of their choice."

Col. Wood names 17 promotions in ROTC

Additional promotions in OU's Air ROTC unit have been announced by Col. Allen H. Wood, PAS and T. Chief among the promotions are five cadets named to first lieutenant.

New cadet first lieutenants are Roger W. Cross, Robert D. Darrah, John R. Fargher, Alfred C. Kummer and William K. Ryan.

Cadet sergeant's stripes will hereafter be worn by William Clark, Merlyn Fratt, Raymond Hampton, Martin Klein, Kenneth Kremers, Burton McMullan, Francis Schuchart and James Wright.

Promotions to cadet corporal are Sam Anazalone, Richard Back, Paul Fesler and Lyle Nicklin.

Last 'Audrey' rehearsal results in mild hysteria

Missed cues, muffed lines prompt ad libs which bring anguish to faculty directors

By Lance Wilson

Laughs were a dime a dozen at the dress rehearsal for "Audrey" Wednesday night in the auditorium. Though the script provided a fair share, the "lion's share" was ad lib, on-the-spur-of-the-moment stuff that had faculty director Edwin L. Clark gritting his teeth.

Intrusion

Missed cues, bantering between directors and actors and quick comebacks from actors to directors, plus muffed lines sent the small, unselected (and oft-times unwanted) audience into gales of (unwanted) laughter. At that, those moments were just about the only times that the 1952 Tom Tom Revue even partly resembled its predecessors, at least in the slapstick department.

Confusion

(By the way, the co-title to "Audrey" is "Women Are Here to Stay," and from the looks of the OU stage Wednesday, few fellas would want to argue the point.)

As in most rehearsals, dress or otherwise, things started slowly. About 45 minutes slowly because, as one onlooker aptly put it, "Everyone's running around looking for a few lost screws, bolts and orchestra members."

Repetition

Perhaps the most interesting group was the dancers, speaking, of course, from a critical standpoint. The male dancers were dressed—like male dancers, to be sure. The female dancers? Speaking critically, they were dressed, to be sure. However, it was unfortunate that their costumes had not yet arrived and they were on stage in black sweaters and white shorts. But it did help to bring out the best in their routines. To be doubly sure.

'Twas the night after Christmas — and boy, what a house!
I felt like the Devil! And so did the spouse.
The eggnog and candy and turkey were swell
But ten hours later they sure gave me H—!

Just wait' till they're seniors

Arthur G. Phillips, associate professor of English at the University of Miami, Fla., recently made the following observations about the freshman and sophomore species in the Miami Hurricane:

A freshman believes the way to get good grades is to study hard; the sophomore has decided that a better way is to sit next to someone who studies hard.

A male freshman is looking for a girl like his mother; this is also true of the sophomore, if his mother happens to be Jane Russell.

Concludes the professor: "Everybody loves a freshman. What makes life so disillusioning is that this year's freshman will be next year's sophomore. Sic transit gloria mundi."

Help us to help you . . .

In Tuesday's edition of the Gateway an announcement was made that the Student Council and The Gateway were co-operating in a campaign to keep the Student Center clean.

Although it seems somewhat juvenile to stage such a campaign, it may be pointed out here that in this case it is also necessary. For too long the Center has been THE center—of lunch remains and dirty dishes left by thoughtless students.

Because this is a university, and because people of intelligence and ability are supposed to be enrolled here, it does not seem logical that these same persons should have to be told to clean up after themselves.

Therefore, we think it will be sufficient to only remind Gateway readers that it is far easier to pick up your own tray than it is for someone else to serve as a waiter for hundreds.

This week several students have taken on the responsibility of being "Big Brothers." This is our "reminder" to you to be considerate of others. Why not help us keep the Student Center clean? Remember that you will also be helping yourselves.

"Big Brother is watching YOU!"

Indians play host to tough Bobcat basketballers, seek repeat victory

Monday night the Omaha University cagers will return to their home court for an 8 p.m. tussle with the Peru Bobcats. It will be the first 1952 home game for the Indians.

Monday night's game will be the second inside of a week with the Bobcats. Last Tuesday, OU downed the Peru squad, 71-65.

That victory was the first time that the Omaha team had ever defeated Peru State on the Bobcat court. The win also gave the Indians a season record of six wins against three losses.

Peru posts 3-7

So far this season the Peru five, coached by Newt Kyle, has posted a 3-7 slate. But this record is not indicative of the potent Bobcat crew.

They have dropped tilts to Regis College of Denver, Washburn, Western Illinois Teachers and Pittsburg Kansas Teachers. They claim East Texas Baptist, Northern Oklahoma and Missouri Valley College on the right side of their record.

The Omahans will have to be at their best Monday night to down the Bobcats for the second time, as the Peru cagers will be trying to avenge the loss suffered on their home court.

A pair of aces

Coach Kyle has two aces up his sleeve which will undoubtedly cause the Indians a great deal of trouble.

They are Don Bornschlegl and Bob Davis. Davis, a 6 ft. 4 in. junior, potted 24 points against the Indians the first time the schools met.

Bornschlegl, a 6 ft. 1 in. forward hit 18 last Tuesday. He was an all NCC choice last season.

But Omaha should be ready for the Peru crew. The outstanding defensive work of Guard Joe Gurnett drew praise from OU followers. Joe also proved his ability to score, as he hit 13 counters in the final game of the Morningside Invitational.

Rose is ready

Bob Rose, the satin-smooth forward from Boys Town, will no doubt be a headache to the Peru team. Rose will be ready to pick up where he left off in his 29 point scoring spree against the Bobcats.

Probable OU starters

F - Rose (6-1)
F - Shinrock (6-4)
C - Nelson (6-4)
G - Moscrey (6-0)
G - Gurnett (6-1) or Mackie (5-10)

Probable Peru starters

F - Bornschlegl (6-1)
F - Grady (5-11)
C - Davis (6-4)
G - Shrader (5-11)
G - Eckman (5-11)

Joe Gurnett . . . Indian ball-hawk leads mates in defensive game.

Rose leads team scoring with 115

Rolling along on a 6-3 record, the Omaha basketballers have averaged 66.89 points per game. Their opponents have averaged 58.

Bob Rose, who was the leading scorer last season, is back in the lead for the nine games played this season. Rose has compiled 115 points in nine games.

Rose's 12.8 points per game average is also tops for the team in this department.

Mackie hits

Bob Mackie, freshman guard from Omaha Teach, has scored 35 times from the floor in 69 attempts for a respectable .507 average. Mackie has played in eight games.

Rose is runner up in this department with a .423 average.

Larry Micheels is the leader in free throw percentage. "Mike" has made four out of five for a .800 mark. But for players with 15 or more attempts, Mackie leads with 20 out of 29 for a .690 record.

Nelson is "bad man"

Lee Nelson is the "bad man" of the Indian cage squad. Nelson has had 29 fouls called against him in nine games.

The Omaha cagers have scored 247 times from the floor to 206 for their opponents. However, the OU foes hold a 177-173 lead at the free throw line.

Peru 'B' cagers hit Papoose five

Lack of a consistent, smooth running combination caused OU's junior varsity their third setback of the season at the Peru gymnasium last Tuesday, 63-57.

The opening stanza was an evenly fought battle with the Papooses matching the Bobcats basket for basket. Omaha U ended up on the short end of an 11-15 score, the difference credited to Peru's gift shooting skill.

In the second quarter Peru's height killed the attack of the Papooses, who burst into a brief flurry of smooth ball handling and shooting, led by Aksel Schmidt. The half ended with Peru still on top, 34-26.

The contest turned into a rough-and-tumble free-for-all in the second half. The Indians narrowed the margin to three points going into the final period, but couldn't hold the pace as the Bobcats surged to a 63-57 final score.

Frosty Westering led the Omaha attack with 17 points. Larry Johnson and Merlyn Fratt shared runner-up honors with ten each.

Chapman paces Sig Eps past Sigma Lambs; table tennis, volleyball tournaments to begin Intramural basketballers finished their second week of league action this week, with Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Theta Phi Delta and the ROTC leading the pack.

But this afternoon, one of these teams is to fall by the wayside. Sig Eps and the ROTC will tangle at 1 p.m.

Sig Eps compiled the biggest score of the season, as they downed Phi Epsilon Pi, 67-4. Bob Chapman was the big gun, collecting 35 points.

ROTC wins

Other games put ROTC over Sig Lambs, with Dick Petersen leading scoring with 14 points; Blackhaws over Otoes; Theta past the Pawnees and the Sig Ep "B" team over the ROTC "B" squad.

Intramural Director Ernie Gorr announced that pairings for the volleyball tournament will be posted today.

Table tennis starts

All table tennis games are to be played in the Fieldhouse. Participants should watch the mural bulletin board.

Those who are entering the table tennis doubles tournament should choose their own part-

Omaha U defeats stubborn Peru; Rose scores 29 points

Torrid Bob Rose was the man of the hour for the Omaha Indians Tuesday night. Rose, last year's leading scorer, poured in 29 points as he led his mates to a 71-65 win over Peru State.

Omaha nearly duplicated a performance of the Morningside Invitational, as they rushed to a 20-7 lead in the first quarter.

Indians spurt

The Bobcats fought back gradually and finally overhauled the Indians in the third quarter and went into the lead.

But OU unleashed a last period spurt in which the Indians out-scored their opponents, 17-12, to give the Omahans the win going away.

This last quarter flurry was paced by Fred Shinrock, who hit from all angles to ice the game. Shinrock finished with 17 counters to follow Rose in the scoring department.

Gurnett shines

Joe Gurnett was the shining light in the Indian defense. Gurnett who is known for his ball-hawking tactics stopped the potent Bobcat attack repeatedly, and added two buckets to the Indian total.

Peru was not without its bright spots. Bob Davis, high scoring center, rang up 24 points left in the game. Davis scored nearly all of his fielders on an unstoppable left handed hook.

Cindermen start practice for indoor March meets

Head Track Coach Ernie Gorr announced that all track men should check out equipment now for the spring season.

The cindermen are starting to get into shape now, as Coach Gorr has scheduled three indoor meets for his team for the latter part of March. Exact dates have not been set.

This will be the first year that the Omaha Fieldhouse has been used for an indoor track-meet.

Dangerous Don Bornschlegl was the runner-up scorer for the Bobcats with 18 counters.

Gurnett and Bob Moscrey played the entire game for the Red and Black. Moscrey hit for nine points.

Sixth win

The Indians played without the services of Bob Mackie who remained at home with a sprained ankle.

The victory over the Peru Bobcats gave the Indians their second straight win and their sixth victory for the season against three defeats.

See you Monday night when OU meets Peru!

Chi O's win volleyball top NISA keeps bowling lead

Chi Omega cinched the volleyball championship by defeating ISA, 46-33. It was a tight game until the final minutes when Chi O surged ahead to win.

Mel Myers led the winners by serving nine points. Virginia Stewart paced the Independents with nine points also.

The final results of the tournament show Chi Omega in first place with a 6-0 record. Unaffiliated I holds second place with ISA third.

Betty Scheneman won the badminton title by eliminating Marilyn Rogers, 11-6, and 11-7 in the finals.

In women's bowling, Kappa's vacated the cellar for the first time this season, as Zeta Tau Alpha dropped to the league basement.

Feathers hold tea, pledge four women to pep group

Feathers, women's pep organization, entertained 40 girls at their mid-year rush tea, Wednesday afternoon. The tea was held in the faculty clubroom from 3 to 5 p.m.

Punch and brownies were served as refreshments. Miss Vera Duerschner and Dr. Frances Holliday, sponsors, attended the open tea.

Four women were pledged to the pep organization. They are Pat Hefti, Derelle Blumer, Joanne Larkin and Ruth Longville. A formal tapping ceremony will be next Wednesday.

Members had an informal discussion of Monday morning's pep rally for the basketball game with Peru State Teachers College Monday night.

Greek meetings select officers, plan initiations

Sig Ep members planned their formal initiation and interrogation at their meeting Tuesday night in the lounge. Following an athletic report by Harold Sage, the fraternity chose their volleyball, badminton and table tennis teams for the intramural competition.

Charlie Simpson is the fraternity's candidate for "King Satan." Howard Olson gave a treasury report and members discussed the coming officer election.

Tobias appoints...

Theta Phi Delta members honored their alums, now in the armed services, at the Holiday Fling vacation dance. Present were Joe Malec and Eldon Steele of the US Naval Academy; Tom Slack, Dave Elmore and Howard Vogt of the Army and Jim Swanson, Ron Kaplan, Howard Johnson and Ronnie Olson of the Air Force.

At the regular meeting Monday night, President Ben Tobias appointed committees for Ma-ic Day planning. Bob Russell is the skit chairman while Dick Schurkamp is chairman of the float committee.

Dick Beam has been selected as the Theta candidate for "King Satan."

Doug and Wally Wright have charge of planning the fraternity stag party for Jan. 26.

Phi Eps elect...

Phi Epsilon Pi held election of new officers at their last meeting.

Officers for the next term are Barney Kadis, superior; Hugo Kahn, vice superior; Maynard Tatelman, corresponding secretary; Dave Belzer, recording secretary; Jerry Meyers, quarterly representative; Norman Goldenberg, treasurer.

Sigma Kappa's namechairmen

Marilyn Everett and Barbara Pugh were appointed chairmen of the Sigma Kappa Ma-ic Day float and skit committees Monday night. Members selected Elaine Lof as their candidate for Theta Chi "Dream Girl."

The OU chapter made plans to attend the Violet Formal of the University of Nebraska Sigma Kappa chapter. The dance will be held tomorrow night in Lincoln.

Business group seeks members

Plans for Phi Theta Chi, women's business sorority, rush tea were completed at a meeting this week. The tea will be held Feb. 11 in room 100.

Membership is open to all women above the first half of their freshman year who are enrolled in business administration. At least three credit hours in business with a grade of C or above are also required.

Marie Zadina was elected Phi Theta Chi's candidate for the "Rose of Delta Sig."

Phi Theta Chi is a professional society, not a social or honorary group.

Delta Sigs to hear insurance manager

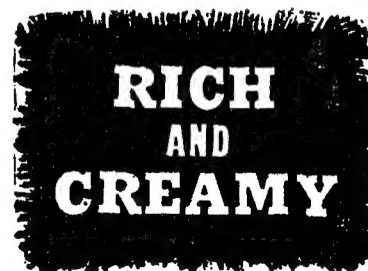

Pledges of Delta Sig will meet today at noon to plan their forthcoming initiation. The meeting will be in room 350.

Ray Gilbreath, manager of the New York Life Insurance Company, will speak at the regular professional meeting next Wednesday. The 7 p.m. meeting will be in the Student Center.

Olsen tells ISA project results

The Independent Students Association held a short business meeting Wednesday afternoon in room 309. Jo Olsen gave a report on the ISA Christmas project, "Operation Santa Claus."

Members will have their group picture taken for The Tomahawk next Wednesday in room 309 at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

Intermission activities will include announcement of King Satan IV, who will be elected by Greeks attending the informal dance. Candidates are Maynard Tatelman, Phi Epsilon Pi; Ray Hampton, Theta Chi; Dick Beam, Theta Phi Delta; Ray Abeita, Sigma Lambda Beta, and Charlie Simpson, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Members of the sorority will announce the sweetest and meanest actives and pledges at the dance. Joan Godsey is in charge of the intermission, Gloria Dunaway and Pat Cahow, invitations.

Elaine Jones and Joan Willey are co-chairman of decorations, which will be based on the devil theme.

Chi O pledges join actives at meeting

Pledge members of Chi Omega invaded the active meeting Wednesday night, giving actives a view of pledge class activities. Donna Trambley reported on the history of Chi Omega and Berdena Andrews outlined the activities of the OU social sororities and fraternities.

Pledges and actives conducted a panel on rushing and an open discussion followed the report.
